

M3 Half Track (troop carrier)

With all of the M16 Quad "50" half tracks around you would think someone would make the M3 troop carrier half track which is much more common. So here is one half track built from that M16 Torro half track, which is already in 1/16 scale.

It took quite a bit of work, not so much as dismantling the quad-50 but where to put a new 2.4ghz receiver, ESC, steering servo and battery in it. Consider that the receiver and battery were both under the floor, which now is hollowed out. The receiver and ESC had to be mounted in the sidewall.
